Contemporary Photography

November 4th – January 4th, 2017
Opening reception: Saturday, November 4th from 6-8pm

Philip McKay, All in the Past. Print on canvas, available in 12x12 in, 20x20 in, 36x36 in.

Mahlstedt Gallery is pleased to present the group exhibition, Contemporary Photography, featuring works by international photographers and digital artists Aitor Arana, Andrei Tallent, Astro de Sagun, Lori Hutchinson and Philip McKay.

Since the invention of the camera obscura by Arab scholar, Alhazen, and the first image developed by Joseph Nicéphore Niepce in 1827, photographers have experimented with changing technology from daguerreotypes, to film and current digital cameras to capture their vision. Along with technological advancements of the camera, and the advent of computer programs offering creative possibilities, today's artists are able to explore and express themselves in innovative ways than ever before. In this exhibition, we examine through the selected artists, and their various approaches to complex and expressive works in the digital realm.

The selected artworks survey a diverse range of digital process utilized, unique to each artist, and their artistic vision. As evident in McKay's digital photography, All in the Past, the artist's digitally configured image, conveys the feelings of isolation as he looks at his stormy past,
